

Day 4 Agenda

Time	Activity	Location
7:30	Arrival Time
8:00	Gilwell Field Assembly	Gilwell Field
8:40	Travel to Outdoor Experience
10:30	Leading Change	Training Room
11:20	Break
11:30	Patrol Leaders Council	Back Porch
12:00	Lunch	Behind Augustus
1:00	Generations in Scouting	Training Room
2:00	Break
2:20	Problem Solving & Decision Making	Training Room
2:50	Round-Robbins
4:05	Break
4:20	Catholic Mass	ERC
4:20	Dinner Prep	Patrol Sites
5:20	Dinner	Patrol Sites
6:05	Managing Conflict	Patrol Sites
7:05	Patrol Meeting	Patrol Sites
8:05	The Diversity Game	Patrol Sites
9:05	Participant Campfire	Amphitheater
10:05	Patrol Cracker Barrel	Patrol Sites

Anger and hatred lead to fear; compassion and concern for others allow us to develop self-confidence, which breeds trust and friendship.

Dalai Lama

GILWELL GAZETTE
MORNING

Well look who made it back to Gilwell!!

I am so happy to welcome you back for another action packed weekend filled with fun and learning.

I know you have been busy over these past few weeks preparing your Patrol Presentation, defining the goals of your ticket and getting ready for the Outdoor Experience part of Wood Badge. As you travel to your campsite, take a moment to remember how we asked you last month to open yourself up to new experiences and change. Perhaps making camp in the outdoors is beyond your comfort zone, draw on the experience of others in your patrol to make the most of it. Maybe the role you play in the presentation of your patrol's project will open up new challenges and opportunities for you. Perhaps the time you spend camping in the outdoors with your patrol make you want to change one of the goals of your ticket. All of these things, and so much

Continued

DAY 4

5/21/16

Caption of the Day!

Give the scribes your best caption for the above picture. Winner will get their name in the Gazette. Suggestions must be submitted before the end of lunch and can be placed in Scribe mail box located by the Scriberville PCs in the ERC.

Name: _____

Captions:

The Chaplin's Corner – Day 4

As you start your second weekend and enjoy the great outdoors, let's take time to cleanse our minds. God's greatest creation is the world we live in. Let's take advantage of what he has to offer.

I like to wish everyone good luck with their tickets. If you come upon trying times, I leave you with this.

Dear God,

Nothing is impossible with you by my side. I dare to dream big, set high goals, and have lofty ambitions. Give me the will to reach my aspirations. Share your strength. Let determination rule me and success will surely come.

Amen

God Bless

Frank Trusso Jr

Chaplin's Aid

C4-440-16

Reminder! There will be a collection for the World Friendship Fund for Scouting during this weekend setup in Augustus.

Please remember if you are able to give an offering this weekend in the designated area to support this fund.

Morning JA Winner

Weather Rock Forecast

The weather rock is sad and lonely because everyone is on their way to their campsite and they are ignoring the Weather Rock.

Morning JA winner

The Beavers

When asked for his name by the coffee shop clerk, my brother-in-law answered, “Marc, with a C.” Minutes later, he was handed his coffee with his name written on the side: Cark.

Antelope

The Antelope's Angle

After winning together with our fellow Troop 1 Critter Patrols during Weekend 1, our spirits were launched sky-high with the screening of October Sky. Invigorated by the Wood Badge experience, Antelope Patrol leapt into action during the interim, gathering the herd via email and in person to plan and refine our Project, the Day 4 Campfire, camp meals and other Weekend 2 details. We're going to go ahead and call our shot for the MacLaren Café Cooking Contest (I mean, we can all win together – if you get any of our leftovers anyway)!

Back to Gilwell...

Horns Up, Hooves Down!

Beavers are on a (log) roll!

Day 3 was full of fun with bottle rockets and movie time. Known as the workaholics of the animal world, it was fitting that we were busy trying to refine our patrol project idea. We had another 'aha! moment' when we stopped talking over each other, took turns, and used our listen listening skills instead to hone our plan. As Wally from Leave it to Beaver would say, "Gee Beave, why didn't you just say so!?"

During our interim between weekends, inspiration and perseverance abound amongst the Beavers. Our Patrol has been busy solving the Scouting world's problems and working on our Leadership project. Joe invited us to his Venturing Crew's meeting in Parma Heights where we were treated to a dinner muy delicioso of walking tacos – fine way to celebrate Cinco de Mayo - and birthday cake! Our Beaver Patrol meeting was exciting as Vince unveiled the project's prototype display and we witnessed Franklin's totem masterpiece. After seeing those, I understand now that we were destined to be named to the Beaver Patrol; we have prolific talent and workaholic tendencies! Needless to say, we walked away from our meeting with full bellies and our project coming together nicely. We are eagerly anticipating our second week-end!

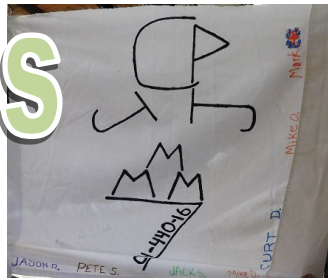

Scribe Beaver Shar

Bobwhites

The Bobwhite patrol has been busy during the interim break. They have used a real-time messaging application called “Slack” (available for IOS and Android as well as PC). Using Slack to keep in touch in real time and share information, data files, and pictures has enabled the covey to move quickly to completion on their project, totem, and Wood Badge tickets. The covey met at Chapin Forest Reservation near Kirtland, OH on May 7th for a nice long patrol meeting to discuss tickets, project, totem, and various patrol duties and schedules. At lunchtime we experimented with several different back pack stoves and cooked chicken, rice, and peppers and onions to make a nice meal. We even had a contest between a pair of stoves to see which could boil water faster. The Jetboil won, but not by much! The covey also discussed various types of back packs and different types of back pack gear that will enable us to establish a fine nesting site for the second weekend of Wood Badge. The covey is looking forward with excitement to the second weekend of Wood Badge.

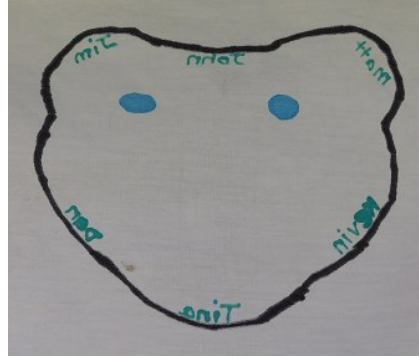

Buffalo

The Buffalo must have been out Roaming.

Bear

Da Bears met at Slyman's and had the best corn beef sandwiches. Our guide Matt joined us. John Hogan came in and talked to us about our tickets. We went over items for weekend number 2. It was a nice evening of work, fun, laughter and learning more about what makes Da Bears so great.

Eagle

The seven members of the Eagle Patrol have been hard at work during the past three and a half weeks. Diligent work has gone into our Wood Badge Tickets. In addition, several hours of work has been put into our Project, Skit, and Song.

Our project is a leadership development game that assists newcomers to test their knowledge about the different levels of scouting. We have had fun building, painting, and playing it. It is an example of something any scouting organization can build and use.

The Wood Badge Tickets are in various stages of evaluation and needed revision. Some of us found it difficult to have a broad goal. Others enjoyed the challenge. And right now we need to assist a member with a technology issue.

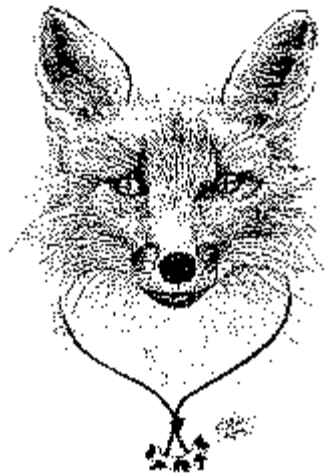

As Eagles, we are sailing high and have enjoyed the challenges presented. We are looking forward to this weekend. It will be filled with exciting learning ventures. See you all Saturday.

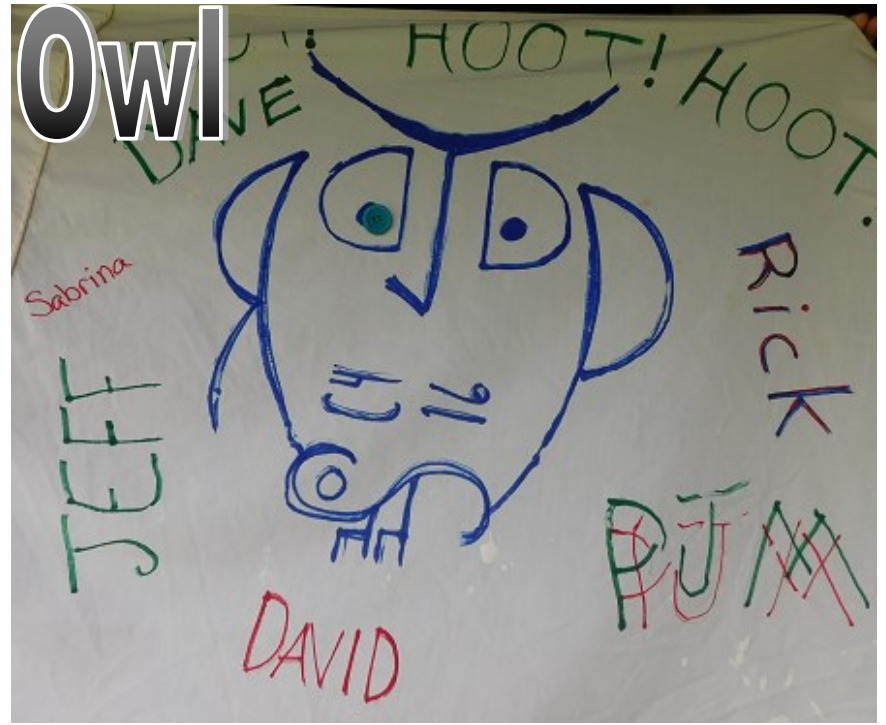

Fox

Two meetings later and the Fox Patrol is well organized and excited for our outpost weekend. We perfected our totem – one that all of us can successful draw! Unfortunately, work demands a continent away prevented our fellow Fox brother from finishing Wood Badge with us. We thank him for all of his contributions to our projects. We'll miss his leadership, friendship and talent but wish him the best knowing that he is only a trail away!

Owl

H O O T H O O T H O O T
Hi all! The Owls are having a HOOTING good time!!!! Totem is looking good. Our flag is completed and looking good. We've been busy as can be. Staying focused on our Tickets & our 2nd weekend. Things are coming together. Putting together a skit and a great menu is keeping us busy. We've had a fun & productive meeting. We're hoping/planning to have at least one more. Until we meet again, HOOT HOOT HOOT!!!!

